

Date: August 29, 2018
Subject: Prop 65 – PCEC Products

Products currently sold by Panasonic Consumer Electronics Company (PCEC) do not contain Proposition 65 listed chemicals, at a level or in a manner that require Proposition 65 Consumer Product Exposure Warnings, with the exception of the following Microwave Oven Models:

NN-SB428S    NN-SB448S    NN-SB636B    NN-SB646S
NN-SU656B    NN-SU656W    NN-SU676B    NN-SU676W
NN-SU686S    NN-SU696S    NN-SB438S

Below, is a sample of the Product Exposure Warning Label, that will appear on the Carton Box of the above listed models, beginning with September 2018 factory production.

PCEC will notify its customers if there are any changes in the Prop 65 warning requirements for existing products, or if Prop 65 warnings are required for future products.

Please be advised that Proposition 65 regulations also require retailers to provide the Consumer Product Exposure Warning to California residents prior to purchase via the internet.

If you are in need of more information, please refer to the Prop 65 Website: www.P65Warnings.ca.gov or contact your PCEC Account Manager.

Sincerely,

David A. Thompson
Director
Corporate Environmental Department